Ivan Allen College Career Educators

This past spring semester, the Nunn School welcomed Kyle Poe and Camille Liverpool as our inaugural career educators. Career Educators aid undergraduate students in understanding their values, interests, and skills and how those align different career paths.

Our career educators help students close the gap between themselves and future employers by providing guidance on the following topics:

- Resume writing
- Mock Interviews
- Job search & internship search
- Salary & negotiation
- Networking
- Major/career exploration

Contact Poe or Liverpool for career outreach opportunities at kpoe7@gatech.edu or cliverpool3@gatech.edu

Graduate Career Development

Clarence Anthony oversees graduate career development. He provides graduate students with one-on-one counseling in relation to job and internship searches, networking, resumé and cover letter reviews, and interviews.

To contact Anthony for career development support email him at clarence.anthony.jr@gatech.edu.

Recruiting and the Nunn School

The staff at the Nunn School is here to facilitate your recruiting opportunities and help you develop a plan to build visibility for your organization among our students.

Employer Information Sessions & Workshops

Organizations with internships and/or career opportunities are invited to present to our students every term. Typical sessions last for an hour and can be held during business hours or in the evening. Employers hosting off campus sessions are welcome to contact our office for marketing assistance. Employers are also welcome to partner with one of our many student organizations to host a workshop on topics such as job search strategies, networking, resume/ cover letter development, interviewing and more.

Career Orientation & Course Presentations

Nunn School undergraduates take a required course focused on careers in International Affairs in which employers are invited to visit the class to share their recruiting practices and tips to help students prepare to enter the workforce.

Washington Career Exploration Visit

Every year, the Nunn School sponsors a career exploration visit to Washington, DC. The day and a half trip includes a briefing at the Center for Strategic and International Studies, an emerging leader career panel discussion, an industry employer visit, and scheduled networking opportunities.

Campus Recruiting

Georgia Tech utilizes Career Buzz, a web based recruiting system to arrange on campus recruiting events and to schedule on-campus interviews. The Nunn School can assist you in arranging recruiting events that target Nunn School students. Visit career.gatech.edu/careerbuzz to learn more.

Resources for Employers

Fall 2021 Career Fair

Each semester the Georgia Tech Career Center hosts an All-Majors Career Fair.

The Fall 2021 All-Majors Career Fair will take place over September 13-15, 2021. On the first two days employers will be able to participate in in person recruiting sessions. Due to social distancing restrictions, there are limited booths for these two days. September 15th there will be a virtual career fair for employers who can not attend in person due to company restrictions. Students are able to attend all three days of the career fair, with no restrictions to a specific day.

See career.gatech.edu for more information.

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs is a member of the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs. APSIA member schools are dedicated to the improvement of professional education in international affairs and preparing students for the global workplace of the 21st Century. See apsia.org for more information.
